

Dear Friend,

Thank you so much for inviting Alex McFarland to speak! Please find our Event Preparation Guide at this link. Feel free to utilize any of the ideas included in the guide to help in the planning process.

Much time and effort has been put into providing this information for you. Alex has spoken at over 2,200 churches across America and has pulled together what he has observed as “best practices” in hosting a successful event. Please take the time to read it over and to recruit teams that will help organize your event.

We at Alex McFarland Ministries acknowledge that no amount of planning can replace the power of the Holy Spirit working in your church and community. We pray that God will show up in a mighty way in your upcoming event!

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to reach out to me.

Blessings in Christ,
